VOLUME XIX INDEX

NO. 1, SPRING 1990	1-90
NO. 2, SUMMER 1990	91-192
NO. 3, FALL 1990	193-308
NO. 4, WINTER 1990	309-408

A

ACTION, 53

"Activity Areas and Developmental Stages in Self-Help Groups," 263-278

Anheier, H. K., "Themes in International Research on the Nonprofit Sector," 371-391

Articles: "Activity Areas and Developmental Stages in Self-Help Groups," 263-278; "Children as Citizens in Training: Political Socialization for a Strong Democracy," 7-20; "Citizens Serving Government: The Extent and Distinctiveness of Volunteer Participation in Local Public Agencies," 329-344; "Comparison of Volunteers in Public and Nonprofit Human Service Agencies," 345-358; "Corporate Philanthropy: Strategic Responses to the Firm's Stakeholders," 93-109; "The Effect of Competition on Labor Management in Nonprofit Organizations," 171-186; "Expanding the Government-by-Proxy Construct: Volunteers in the Delivery of Public Services," 315-328; "The Independence of Voluntary Organizations in a Social Democracy: Governmental Influences in Norway," 393-407; "Israeli and U.S. Orientations Toward Self-Help Groups for Families in Crisis," 251-262; "Labor Economics and the Nonprofit Sector: A Literature Review," 151-169; "Methodological Issues in Studying the Effectiveness of Nongovernmental and Nonprofit Organizations," 293-306; "Motivational Differences Between Black and White Volunteers," 121-126; "Multiple Forms of Volunteer Activity in the Public Sector: Functional, Structural, and Policy Dimensions," 47-58; "Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector Economics: A Critical Survey," 137-149; "Privatization and Its Impact on Nonprofit Service Providers," 33-45; "Realigning Corporate Giving: Problems in the Nonprofit Sector for Community Development Corporations," 111-119; "Responsibility for Critical Events in Nonprofit Organizations," 59-72; "State and Welfare Groups: Competition or Cooperation? Some Observations on the Israeli Scene," 215-235; "Tax Expenditures: A Criticism of the Concept as Applied to Nongovernmental Organizations," 279-292; "Themes as in International Research on the Nonprofit Sector," 371-391; "Voluntarism, Nongovernmental Organizations, and Public Policy in the Third Reich," 199-214; "Voluntary Organizations and Public Incentive Systems: A Norwegian Case," 237-250; "Volunteer Fire and Rescue Corporations: Structure, Process, and Survival," 359-370; "Volunteers' Life-Styles: Market Segmentation Based on Volunteers' Role Choices," 21-31

Association of Voluntary Action Scholars, 79

Attribution theory, 62

B

Bauer, R., "Activity Areas and Developmental Stages in Self-Help Groups," 263-278; "Voluntarism, Nongovernmental Organizations, and Public Policy in the Third Reich," 199-214

Bennett, J. T., Unfair Competition: The Profits of Nonprofits, reviewed, 85-89

Boards of directors: boundary-spanning role, 69; and CEOs, 60-61, 68-70; nonprofit, 60-61; responsibility, 70

Book Reviews: The Third America: The Emergence of the Third Sector in the United States, 307-308; Unfair Competition: The Profits of Nonprofits, 85-89; "Will the Real 'Private Sector' Please Stand Up," 187-191

Boundary blurring, intersectoral, 311–312, 317, 354–356
Brudney, J. L., "Expanding the Government-by-Proxy Construct: Volunteers in the Delivery of Public Services," 315–328; "Multiple Forms of Volunteer Activity in the Public Sector: Functional, Structural, and Policy Dimensions," 47–58
Bureau of Public Affairs Research (University of Idaho) municipal government study, 330
Burke, L., "Corporate Philanthropy: Strategic Responses to the Firm's Stakeholders," 93–109

C

Central Welfare Office of German Jews, 200–203
Chapin's Social Participation Scale, 25
Charities: Islamic, 379; private, 35–36. See also Nonprofit organizations (NPOs)
Chesler, M. A., "Israeli and U.S. Orientations Toward Self-Help Groups for Families in Crisis," 251–262
Chesney, B., "Israeli and U.S. Orientations Toward Self-Help Groups for Families in Crisis," 251–262
Chief executive officers (CEOs): accountability, 67; and boards of directors, 60–61, 68–70; leadership, 68; nonprofit (study), 62–70
Childhood political socialization research, 10–11
Children: citizenship values, 14–15, 17–18; club membership, 16–17; and politics, 10–11; role models, 12; and school curriculum, 14–15; socialization (study), 7–18; and television, 11–14
"Children as Citizens in Training: Political Socialization for a Strong Democracy," 7–20
Christian Workers Relief, 201–203, 210
Citizen support groups, 54
"Citizens Serving Government: The Extent and Distinctiveness of Volunteer Participation in Local Public Agencies," 329–344
Cnaan, R. A., "Comparison of Volunteers in Public and Nonprofit Human Service Agencies," 345–358; "Volunteers in Public and Nonpublic Settings" (symposium issue), 311–314
Cofinancing, 50, 56
Commentary: "Commentary on Van Til's 'Independence of Research': Another View," 79–83; "Commentary on Van Til's 'Independence of Research': Of Disclosure and Diversity," 73–78
Community development corporations (CDCs), 112–113. See also Nonprofit organizations
Community Organizations: Studies in Resource Mobilization and Exchange, reviewed, 187–188
Comparative analysis: Boolean algebra technique, 200–304; truth table, 301–302; and voluntarism, 304
"Comparison of Volunteers in Public and Nonprofit Human Service Agencies," 345–358
Coproduction: and boundary blurring, 312; defined, 361–362; and fire and rescue organizations, 362, 367; and volunteerism, 48–50, 56
Coprovision, 49–50, 56
Corporate giving: and local economy, 112–113; and national economy, 112; and nonprofits, 116–117; perceptions, 113–115; study, 113–118; trends, 112
"Corporate Philanthropy: Strategic Responses to the Firm's Stakeholders," 93–109
Corporatism, 376–377

D

DiLorenzo, T. J., Unfair Competition: The Profits of Nonprofits, reviewed, 85–89

E

Economics: labor, 151, 166–167; neoclassical, 137–138; new organizational, 138–139; nonprofit/voluntary sector, 139–141
"The Effect of Competition on Labor Management in Nonprofit Organizations," 171–186
Effectiveness: and constituent satisfaction, 298–299; defining, 298; indicators, 299–300; methodological issues,

300-304; NGO/NPO, 298-300; and outcome indicators, 299; and reputational measures, 299; research, 297-298; and survival, 300; and unit cost measures, 298
Emergency medical services (EMS's), 359-361, 363, 367
Employees. See Labor
English Poor Law of 1601, 35, 377
Ethics, and human services provision, 42-43
"Expanding the Government-by-Proxy Construct: Volunteers in the Delivery of Public Services," 315-328

F

Family: in crisis, 251-252, 254-260; national cultural differences, 254-260; and self-help groups, 252
Fire and rescue organizations: and government, 366, 368; member characteristics, 363-365; minimalist structure, 362, 363; organizational characteristics, 361-363; organizational issues, 365-366; study, 360-368; volunteer, 316
Focus group research, 8-9
For-profit organizations: and boundary blurring, 311; health care, 38-39. See also Private sector
Friends of the Library, 55-56

G

Gallup Organization survey of volunteerism (1985), 331-334
Gassler, R. S., "Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector Economics: A Critical Survey," 137-149
German Caritas Federation, 200-204, 207, 210
German Home Mission, 200-203, 207, 210
German Red Cross, 200-204, 207, 208-209
German Reich Union of Voluntary Welfare (Nazi), 203, 206, 207, 208
Germany: foundation sector, 375; Nazi public policy and VWAs, 203-204; Nazi welfare associations, 205-208; NGOs in Weimar Republic, 200-201; public policy on VWAs, 203-204; Red Cross, 202-204, 207; self-help groups (study), 264-277; socialist ideology and NGOs, 201-203; traditional welfare associations during Nazism, 208-210. See also Nazism
Gidron, B., "International Perspectives on Voluntarism, Nonprofit Organizations, and Public Policy" (special issue), 195-198; "Israeli and U.S. Orientations Toward Self-Help Groups for Families in Crisis," 251-262
Girl Scouts, 16-18
Gjems-Onstad, O., "The Independence of Voluntary Organizations in a Social Democracy: Governmental Influences in Norway," 393-407; "Tax Expenditures: A Criticism of the Concept as Applied to Nongovernmental Organizations," 279-292
Goldberg-Glen, R. S., "Comparison of Volunteers in Public and Nonprofit Human Service Agencies," 345-358
Government: and fire and rescue organizations, 366, 368; and nongovernmental personnel, 315; by proxy, 315-318, 325; responsiveness, and volunteers, 320-321; third-party, 316; values, 321-323; volunteerism benefits, 318-321; volunteers, 316-318, 329, 331-335. See also Local government; Public sector
Gray, B. H., "Commentary on Van Til's 'Independence of Research': Of Disclosure and Diversity," 73-78
Gronbjerg, K. A., review by, 85-89

H

Hall, P. D., "Commentary on Van Til's 'Independence of Research': Another View," 79-83
Halves, E., "Activity Areas and Developmental Stages in Self-Help Groups," 263-278
Harris, M., review by, 307-308
Health and human services: changes, 38; ethical issues, 42-43; no pay/low pay clients, 40, 42; privatization, 40, 42-44; and supply and demand, 39-42; voluntarism, 43; volunteerism (study), 347-356

Hebb, F., "Realigning Corporate Giving: Problems in the Nonprofit Sector for Community Development Corporations," 111–119
Heidrich, K. W., "Volunteers' Life-Styles: Market Segmentation Based on Volunteers' Role Choices," 21–31
Heimovics, R. D., "Responsibility for Critical Events in Nonprofit Organizations," 59–72
Herman, R. D., "Methodological Issues in Studying the Effectiveness of Nongovernmental and Nonprofit Organizations," 293–306; "Responsibility for Critical Events in Nonprofit Organizations," 59–72
Human resource management (HRM), 100
Human services. See Health and human services
Hyland, S. E., "Realigning Corporate Giving: Problems in the Nonprofit Sector for Community Development Corporations," 111–119

I

"The Independence of Voluntary Organizations in a Social Democracy: Governmental Influences in Norway," 393–407
Independent Sector, 79, 311
Integrated participation, 219, 226–229
International City Management Association (ICMA) study of public agencies (1982), 48, 316, 330
International Conference on Voluntarism, Nongovernmental Organizations, and Public Policy, 195
"International Perspectives on Voluntarism, Nonprofit Organizations, and Public Policy" (special issue), 195–198
Intersectoral theory, 345–346
Israel: self-help groups (study), 253–261; state legitimacy, 230–231; state power, 229–230; VWA autonomy, 221–226; VWA history, 220; VWA relations, 226–229, 231–233
"Israeli and U.S. Orientations Toward Self-Help Groups for Families in Crisis," 251–262
Italy, third sector in, 373–374

J

Jones-McClintic, S., "Privatization and Its Impact on Nonprofit Service Providers," 33–45

K

Kettner, P. M., "Privatization and Its Impact on Nonprofit Service Providers," 33–45

L

Labor: compensated, 159–163; economics, 151, 166–167; force size, 163–264; management, 172–173; volunteer, 152–159, 164–166
"Labor Economics and the Nonprofit Sector: A Literature Review," 151–169
Lammers, J. C., "The Effect of Competition on Labor Management in Nonprofit Organizations," 171–186
Latting, J. K., "Motivational Differences Between Black and White Volunteers," 121–126
Leadership: CEO, 68; volunteer, 26–28
League of Voluntary Welfare Associations, 200–203, 206
Local government: and fire and rescue organizations, 366; volunteerism, 330–343. See also Government
Logsdon, J. M., "Corporate Philanthropy: Strategic Responses to the Firm's Stakeholders," 93–109

M

McMurtry, S. L., "Privatization and Its Impact on Nonprofit Service Providers," 33–45
Management: employee, 99–100; external stakeholder, 100; nonprofit sector, 385; personnel, 172–173; and philanthropy, 94–95; volunteer, 321–325, 351–352
Managers: behavior of nonprofit (study), 62–70; volunteer, 317
"Methodological Issues in Studying the Effectiveness of Nongovernmental and Nonprofit Organizations," 293–306
Milofsky, C., "Commentary on Van Til's

'Independence of Research': Another View," 79–83
"Motivational Differences Between Black and White Volunteers," 121–126
"Multiple Forms of Volunteer Activity in the Public Sector: Functional, Structural, and Policy Dimensions," 47–58

N

National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), 325
National Association of Social Workers, 39
National Center for Charitable Statistics, 296
National Socialist Nation's Welfare Association (NSV), 199, 204–209, 211
Nazism: Jewish policies, 208; NGO policy toward, 204–205; party welfare associations, 205–208; traditional welfare associations, 208–210; and VWAs, 203–204
Netting, F. E., "Privatization and Its Impact on Nonprofit Service Providers," 33–45
NIMBYism, 8
Nondenominational Welfare Association, 201, 203
Nongovernmental organizations (NGOs): and concentration camps, 205; defined, 199, 294–296; effectiveness, 298–300; in German Weimar Republic, 200–201; and national socialist ideology, 201–203; and Nazism, 204–205; research, 297–298; and tax expenditures, 281–282; and third sector, 286; in totalitarian countries, 210–211; types, 296–297. See also Nonprofit organizations (NPOs); Private sector
Nongovernmental personnel, 315–318
Nonprofit organizations (NPOs): activities, 141–143; altruism, 145–146; and attribution theory, 62–63; and CEOs/boards of directors, 60, 61, 68–69; changes, 38–39; community development corporations (CDCs), 112–113; competition (study), 173–184; defined, 141, 294–296, 394; economics, 139–141; effectiveness, 298–300; and entrepreneurship, 140; financial support, 44; hierarchical model, 59; history, 35–36; independence, 74; interest groups, 80; managed system perspective, 60; managers (study), 62–70; and market-failure theories, 80; and media, 396, new economics, 145–147; Norway, 394–396; operation, 144; paid employees, 159–164; performance, 144–145; personnel management, 172–173; private sector support, 116–117; profits, 85–89; vs. public sector, 174, 187–191; purposes, 143–144; purposive-rational perspective of, 60; as quasi-governmental agencies, 396–397; reputational survey, 115; research, 79; resources, 74–75, 81; social constructionist approach, 61–62; and strategic philanthropy, 103–105; time/money contributions, 154–57; types, 296–297; unfair advantage, 85–87; and volunteerism, 152; weaknesses, 88; and women, 162–63. See also Charities; Nongovernmental organizations (NGOs); Nonprofit sector
"Nonprofit and Voluntary Sector Economics: A Critical Survey," 137–149
Nonprofit sector: civil law countries, 376–377; common law countries, 377–378; corporatism, 376–377; developing countries, 378–379; international characteristics, 372–375; international definitions, 372; international research, 380–387; Islamic countries, 379; mediated administration, 376; policy and legislative patterns, 375; public vs. private goods delivery, 380–387; social democratic countries, 377; socialist countries, 378–379; and solidarity, 377; types, 375–379. See also Charities; Nonprofit organizations (NPOs)
Nordhaug, O., "Voluntary Organizations and Public Incentive Systems: A Norwegian Case," 237–250
Norway: adult education, 238–239; Adult Education Act of 1977, 241–243, 400; government/NPO relationship, 395–401; tax expenditures and NGOs, 285–291, 401–405; voluntary adult education organizations (VAEOs), 239–241
Not-for-profit organizations. See Nonprofit organizations (NPOs)

O

O'Neill, M., The Third America: The Emergence of the Third Sector in the United States, reviewed, 307–308
Organizations: and attribution theory, 62–63; effectiveness, 293–294; managed system model, 60; purposive-rational model, 60; resource dependent, 69; social constructionist perspective, 61–62

P

"Papers from the 1988 AVAS Conference" (special issue), 3–5
Peace Corps, 52–54
Perkins, K. B., "Papers from the 1988 AVAS Conference" (special issue), 3–5; "Volunteer Fire and Rescue Corporations: Structure, Process, and Survival," 359–370
Philanthropy: management interest, 94–95; strategic, 95–96. See also Corporate giving; Strategic philanthropy
Pluralism, 217–218
Political efficacy, 11
Private sector: historical origins, 35–36; and public sector, 36–37. See also For-profit organizations
Privatism and Urban Policy in Britain and the United States, reviewed, 190–191
Privatization: defined, 33–34; government sector, 189–190; and human services, 40; and nonprofit service providers, 33–44; and NPOs, 397
"Privatization and Its Impact on Nonprofit Service Providers," 33–45
Program on Nonprofit Organizations (Yale University), 82
Public goods: cofinancing, 50; coproduction, 49–50; coprovision, 49–50
Public schools: and citizenship values, 15; curriculum, 14–15
Public sector: and citizen inputs, 47; and English Poor Law, 35, 377; funding of private agency services, 37–38; historical origins, 35; management challenges, 321–325; vs. NPOs, 174, 187–191; organizational maps, 56–57; and private sector, 36–37; volunteers, 49. See also Government

Q

Quasi-autonomous nongovernmental organizations (Quangos), 374, 376

R

"Realigning Corporate Giving: Problems in the Nonprofit Sector for Community Development Corporations," 111–119
Recreational councils (RCs), 54–56
Red Cross, 204, 209, 374
Reiner, M., "Corporate Philanthropy: Strategic Responses to the Firm's Stakeholders," 93–109
Research: effectiveness, 297–298; fire and rescue organization, 368; international nonprofit sector, 380–387; NPO, 79; public agency volunteerism, 340–341; social service volunteerism, 346; third-sector, 311; volunteerism impact, 341–342
Researchers: accountability, 77; bias, 82; conflict of interest, 75; financial support, 76; independence, 73–74; and journals, 82; limits of disclosure, 76–77; protection, 75–76; sponsors, 81
"Responsibility for Critical Events in Nonprofit Organizations," 59–72
Russell, A., "Realigning Corporate Giving: Problems in the Nonprofit Sector for Community Development Corporations," 111–119

S

SCORE, 53–54
Self-help groups: activity areas, 265–267; benefits, 255–258, 260; defined, 252, 263–264; developmental phases, 267–276; family member reports of, 255–259; Germany (study), 264–277; growth, 252, 263–264; professionals' roles, 259–261; studies, 264; U.S. vs. Israel (study), 253–261
Solidarity, 377
"State and Welfare Groups: Competition or Cooperation? Some Observations on the Israeli Scene," 215–235
Steinberg, R., "Labor Economics and the Nonprofit Sector: A Literature Review," 151–169

Strategic philanthropy: and human resource management, 99–100; implications, 103–105; related factors, 101–103; research issues, 105–106; and strategic outcome, 96–99; and strategic process, 95–98; study, 96–105. See also Corporate giving; Philanthropy
Sundeen, R. A., "Citizens Serving Government: The Extent and Distinctiveness of Volunteer Participation in Local Public Agencies," 329–344
Supervisors, volunteer, 317–318
Supply and demand, service organization, 39–42

T

Tax expenditures: administration, 288–289; analysis, 282–283, 286–287; arguments for, 287–288; concept history, 280–281; and consumption, 284; and NGOs, 281–282; in Norway, 285–291, 401–405; problems with, 282–286, 287–291; quantification, 289; subjective nature, 283
"Tax Expenditures: A Criticism of the Concept as Applied to Nongovernmental Organizations," 279–292
Television programs: and children, 11–14; and citizenship values, 14–15, 17–18; political content, 12–14; sensory bombardment, 14; violence, 12
"Themes in International Research on the Nonprofit Sector," 371–391
The Third America: The Emergence of the Third Sector in the United States, reviewed, 307–308
Third sector: American, 307; and boundary blurring, 311, 347, 354–356; and intersectoral theory, 345–346; Italy, 373–374; research, 311; tax policy, 286. See also Nongovernmental organizations (NGOs); Nonprofit organizations (NPOs); Voluntary sector
Training and development, and philanthropy, 99–100
Trojan, A., "Activity Areas and Developmental Stages in Self-Help Groups," 263–278

U

Unfair Competition: The Profits of Nonprofits, reviewed, 85–89
U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), 53

V

Value-added tax (VAT), 281–282, 286, 402–405
Van Til, J.,"Will the Real 'Private Sector' Please Stand Up?" 187–191
VISTA, 52–54
Voluntarism: and comparative analysis, 304; and graduate education, 325; history (Israel), 220; Israel (study), 215–233; metatheory, 187–188; Nazi Germany (study), 199–211; Norway (study), 237–248
"Voluntarism, Nongovernmental Organizations, and Public Policy in the Third Reich," 199–214
Voluntary adult education organizations (VAEOs): background/organization (Norway), 238–241; gender/generational issues (Norway), 242–244; ideals (Norway), 241–242; individual-collective paradox (Norway), 244–245; per capita vs. selective distribution, 245–247; and public policy (Norway), 247–248; social aspects, 242–242
"Voluntary Organizations and Public Incentive Systems: A Norwegian Case," 237–250
Voluntary sector: accounting/management systems, 44; economics, 139–141; environments, 40–41; organizational approach, 188; and social constructionism, 62; and supply and demand, 40; vs. volunteer organization, 361; and volunteers, 312. See also Third sector; Volunteerism; Volunteers
Voluntary welfare associations (VWAs): autonomy (Israel), 221–226; competitive model, 217–218; cooperative model, 217; decision making (Israel), 224–226; defined, 216–217; functions, 216; funding (Israel), 222–223; history (Germany), 200–201; and integrated participation, 219, 226–229; leadership (Israel), 223–224; and liberal corporatism, 217; and Nazi public policy, 203–204; and pluralism, 217–218; state relations (Israel), 226–233; welfare services, 216, 232–233; in welfare states, 215–216

"Volunteer Fire and Rescue Corporations: Structure, Process, and Survival," 359–370
Volunteerism: and altruism, 122; benefits, 318–321; collective, 51; defined, 312; and ethnic community theory, 123; Gallup Organization survey (1985), 331–334; hierarchical approach, 48, 50–52; human services (study), 347–356; local government, 330–343; monetary incentive, 317; policy questions, 52; and tax reform, 155; U.S., 48; variables affecting, 157–158. See also Voluntary sector; Volunteers
Volunteers: altruistic motivation, 122, 126, 130; autonomy, 51–52; black, 122–124, 130–132; and boundary blurring, 311; citizen, 316; cofinancing, 50; compensation, 152–154; coproduction, 48–50, 56; coprovision, 49–50; defined, 23; dependence on, 323; direct service, 28–29; economic value, 164–166; empowerment, 325; ethnic differences (study), 121–133; as fundraisers, 55; general support, 28–29; government, 316–318, 329, 331–335; and governmental responsiveness, 320–321; human services, 350–354; intangible benefits, 319–320; job listings, 317; labor demand, 158–159; and leadership, 26–28; life-styles, 21–22; management, 321–325; market segmentation, 21; members-at-large, 28–29; motivation, 126, 130, 334–335, 337–339; organizational influence, 52–54, 323–324, 341–342; police, 319; and public goods/services, 59–60; public vs. nonprofit, 355–356; recruitment/retention (study), 21–30; roles, 22, 26–27; sector comparison (study), 335–341; structural arrangements, 51–52; supervision, 317–318; values, 321–323; and voluntary sector, 312. See also Voluntary sector; Volunteerism
"Volunteers in Public and Nonpublic Settings" (symposium issue), 311–314
"Volunteers' Life-Styles: Market Segmentation Based on Volunteers' Role Choices," 21–31

W

Walter, V. A., "Children as Citizens in Training: Political Socialization for a Strong Democracy," 7–20
Warren, R., "Multiple Forms of Volunteer Activity in the Public Sector: Functional, Structural, and Policy Dimensions," 47–58
Weimar Republic (Germany), 200–201
Welfare: and German Nazism, 205–210; and VWAs, 216, 232–233
Welfare state: and NPOs, 396; and VWAs, 215–220; and welfare/human services, 345–346
Wetendorf, H., "Activity Areas and Developmental Stages in Self-Help Groups," 263–278
"Will the Real 'Private Sector' Please Stand Up," 187–191
Working Group of Sociopolitical Organizations, 201, 203
Working Group of Voluntary Welfare Associations (Nazi), 206, 208, 210

Y

Yishai, Y., "State and Welfare Groups: Competition of Cooperation? Some Observations on the Israeli Scene," 215–235